Teaching Canadians to save themselves and rescue others

Annually, over 1.5 million Canadians participate in our swimming, lifesaving, lifeguard, first aid and leadership programs. Each year, we certify thousands of instructors who provide the leadership for our training programs. Over 30,000 Canadians earn our Bronze Medallion each year. As Canada's lifeguarding experts, we set the standard for lifeguard training and certify Canada's National Lifeguards.

Making Canadians Water Smart®

The Lifesaving Society focuses Water Smart drowning prevention efforts on people most at risk – like men fishing in small boats – or on those who can make a significant difference, such as parents of young children. We deliver Water Smart messages through our swim program, media and community action. Our Swim to Survive® program provides the essential minimum skills required to survive an unexpected fall into deep water.

Drowning research

The Lifesaving Society conducts research into fatal and non-fatal drowning, aquatic injury and rescue interventions. Ongoing research and analysis supports the Society's evidence-based water-rescue training and Water Smart drowning prevention education.

Setting the standard

The Lifesaving Society establishes aquatic safety standards and consults on aquatic safety issues for the aquatic industry, governments and the judiciary. The Society offers a suite of services to help aquatic facility operators maintain and improve safe pool and waterfront operations. We perform aquatic safety audits and serve as experts in legal cases involving aquatic safety.

Lifesaving sport

The Lifesaving Society is the Canadian governing body for lifesaving sport – a sport recognized by the International Olympic Committee and the Commonwealth Games Federation. We use lifesaving sport to engage and inspire youth in our drowning prevention mission. Our Lifesaving Sport Fundamentals program offers a recreational introduction to lifesaving sport skills. Junior, senior and masters athletes compete regionally, provincially, nationally and internationally. We offer certification programs for officials and coaches.

The Lifesaving Society

The Lifesaving Society is a full-service provider of programs, products and services designed to prevent drowning. We save lives and prevent water-related injury through our training programs, Water Smart public education, drowning research, aquatic safety management and lifesaving sport.

We are a national volunteer organization and registered charity composed of ten provincial/territorial branches, tens of thousands of individual members, and over 4,000 affiliated swimming pools, waterfronts, schools and clubs.

The Lifesaving Society is a leader and partner in the delivery of water safety education throughout Canada and around the world. (The Society operates globally in over 25 countries.) We represent Canada in the Commonwealth Royal Life Saving Society and we are Canada’s Full Member in the International Life Saving Federation. The Lifesaving Society takes lead responsibility for drowning prevention in Canada.

Land Acknowledgment

The Lifesaving Society Ontario is situated on the ancestral lands of Indigenous peoples, a region rich in rivers and lakes. We are grateful to pursue our drowning prevention work on this extraordinary territory. These are the sacred lands of the Anishnabeg, Haudenosaunee, Mississaugas of the Credit and Wendat peoples, and home to many Indigenous peoples from across Turtle Island.

As we think about our place in the world, we invite you to think about yours, and to pay respect to those who came before. We are mindful of broken covenants and the need to partner with the Indigenous peoples who continue to call this land home, and to act as fellow stewards – to share and care for this land and its waterways for generations to come.

We have been teaching swimming, water safety and water rescue in Canada since 1896. Established in England (1891) as The Swimmers’ Life Saving Society, we became The Royal Life Saving Society in 1904. Today, we are known as simply the Lifesaving Society.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Greetings!

As I prepared my submission for the 2025 Annual Report, I found myself reflecting on my own journey with the Lifesaving Society and the roots that first connected me to this remarkable organization. If you are reading this report, you share those roots as well – and I invite you to take a moment to reflect on your own, especially if it has been a while since you last paused to do so.

Volunteers are truly the heart of the Lifesaving Society. Volunteerism is woven into every part of our organization, from board members and committee chairs to instructors, examiners and event coordinators. Our volunteers are often the first to arrive and the last to leave, motivated not by recognition but by a genuine desire to make a difference. Their passion is infectious, inspiring others to get involved and contribute. Time and again, our volunteers demonstrate an extraordinary commitment, balancing their involvement with work, family and other responsibilities, all while advancing our shared vision of a Canada free from drowning and water-related injuries.

One of the most inspiring aspects of our branch is the longevity of service shown by so many of our volunteers. Many have contributed for decades and beyond, leaving a legacy that continues to shape who we are today. These individuals have witnessed – and helped lead – the evolution of lifesaving training, the expansion of our programs and the growing impact of our work across communities. Along the way, they have mentored countless new volunteers, passing on knowledge, traditions and a strong sense of purpose that spans generations.

The influence of long-serving volunteers is evident throughout every facet of our work. They are the steady voices of experience in boardroom discussions, the wisdom behind our most enduring programs, and the familiar faces who return year after year to support events and initiatives. Their stories – of Bronze Medallion exams from years past, of lifeguard competitions judged, and of countless hours spent teaching Swim for Life – are woven into the rich tapestry of our branch. These volunteers exemplify the values of collaboration, excellence and innovation that define the Lifesaving Society.

It is also heartening to see how volunteering with the Lifesaving Society has become a family tradition for many, with involvement passed from one generation to the next. This legacy ensures that our branch remains vibrant, forward-looking, and deeply rooted in the communities we serve. As a parent, I can still remember the anticipation we experienced as our daughters took their National Lifeguard exams, now followed by debates about rescue techniques at the dinner table.

In 2025, the strength of the Ontario Branch was once again driven by the leadership and dedication of its volunteers. Across fundraising, governance, training, sport and public education, volunteers shared their time, expertise and enthusiasm to advance drowning prevention throughout the province. I encourage you to read this Annual Report from cover to cover and discover how volunteer-led fundraising generated more than $37,000 for Water Smart® and Swim to Survive® programs, how leadership volunteers strengthened the Society's future through National Trainer reappointments and new recruitment, and how volunteers powered lifesaving sport competitions, supported strong governance, and shaped key advances in training, management education, and public outreach. Together, these efforts highlight a volunteer community that continues to be the backbone of the Society's impact and success.

I would also be remiss if I did not extend my heartfelt gratitude to the Ontario Branch staff. I am continually impressed by your professionalism, expertise and unwavering commitment. Whether coordinating lifesaving programs, developing educational resources, managing competition logistics, or supporting community outreach, you ensure that our work runs smoothly and reaches those who need it most. Your adaptability and innovation have been especially evident in recent years as we navigated change and responded to growing demand for our services.

To every staff member and volunteer – whether you are new to our branch or have been part of our community for a lifetime – thank you. Your contributions make it possible for us to save lives, educate communities, and promote water safety across Ontario.

This year's Annual General Meeting is more than a routine gathering. It is an opportunity to reflect on the incredible people who shape our Society, the dedication that sustains our work, and the enduring spirit that sets our branch apart. The story of the Lifesaving Society Ontario Branch is, above all, a story of people – our achievements, growth and resilience are grounded in the commitment of those who serve, both professionally and voluntarily.

As always, thank you, and please continue to join us as we work together toward our shared vision of a Canada free from drowning and water-related injuries.

TREASURER'S REPORT

The summary financial information presented here is derived from the Royal Life Saving Society Canada, Ontario Branch ("the Society") consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2025. They include the results of the Drowning Prevention Research Centre Canada, a federally incorporated registered charity controlled by the Society. This summary does not replace the audited statements. Detailed audited consolidated financial statements of the Royal Life Saving Society Canada, Ontario Branch are available upon request.

In 2025, the Society reported net revenues of $11.7 million and total expenditures of $12.6 million, resulting in a deficit of $901,000 for the year. This is in contrast to the $365,000 surplus achieved in 2024. The deficit primarily reflects a lack of anticipated revenue growth in key areas, alongside higher spending associated with strengthening core operations, advancing strategic priorities and expanding the Society's capabilities.

Water Rescue generated net revenues of $4.2 million, a 2% increase from 2024, reflecting growth in Lifeguarding and First Aid awards.

Leadership net revenues were $1.25 million, representing an expected 5% decline from 2024. This decrease reflects the tapering of growth following the prior Swim Transition peak.

Literature net revenues totaled approximately $2.4 million, a 2% decrease from 2024. This decline in new materials is consistent with national trends reflecting a drop in demand for literature that supports training programs.

Merchandise net revenues totaled $513,000, up 2% from 2024. Lifesaving Sport revenue of $293,000 was up a strong 12% as programming continued to build momentum, with steady participation and engagement across competitions and events.

Other income sources remained an important contributor to the Society's financial results. Swim to Survive grants utilized in 2025 totalled $1.7 million, up from $1.3 million in 2024. These revenues, reflected in Fundraising, are offset by the corresponding expenditures. Investment income was $591,000 in 2025, reflecting investment portfolio returns of 12%, which, while very strong, were lower than the exceptional investment returns of 21% realized in 2024.

Total expenditures rose to $12.6 million in 2025, an increase of approximately 12% over 2024 (or 9% excluding Swim to Survive program expenses). The increase was primarily due to higher salaries and benefits, occupancy costs, relocation costs, meeting costs, and a higher national levy. Most of these costs were allocated across multiple program areas.

The Society completed its investment in a new office and warehouse relocation. The change in net working capital reflects the drawdown of investments totaling $1.4 million to complete the relocation and to supplement cash flow, which was impacted by slower-than-expected receivable collections. The Society has implemented tools to address high trade receivables. Despite these outflows, the Society maintained a year-end investment balance of $3.7 million, excluding maturities under one year.

In conclusion, the Society's financial results for 2025 produced an unplanned deficit, primarily due to revenues falling short of expected growth across several centres. In response, cost mitigation and cash flow management strategies remain in effect. Investments made during the year in programs, infrastructure and organizational capacity are intended to support the Society's long-term growth and impact throughout Ontario, advancing its mission of preventing drowning and reducing water-related injury.

TRAINING PROGRAMS

Training Programs contributes to the mission of the Society by developing and supporting the delivery of training programs and related education products and services to prevent drowning and water-related injury and to train Ontarians how to swim and to rescue themselves and others in, on or around the water.

Swim Committee

Many thanks to our hard-working Swim Committee: Lisa Brandie (Chair), Erin Burrell, Kennedy Connors, Elisabeth Drouillard, Lynda Kissner, Gretna Lalbachan, Elyse Laughton, Sarah Laughton, Daniel Morson, Kayla Pariselli and Jaylen Peters.

In 2025, the Swim Committee welcomed a number of new members: Brynn McCarron, Giulia Pearl, Taylor Reeves and Sarah Walsh.

Seasonal affiliate meetings

In 2025, the second annual Spring Affiliate meetings targeted for Seasonal Swim Licensees were held virtually, with over 75 participants joining to network, connect and ask valuable programming questions. The Swim Committee also held a Fall Swim Affiliate Meeting for year-round affiliates, which drew more than 96 participants and featured a special drowning-prevention presentation from Dr. Tessa Clemens alongside a series of departmental updates.

Survey

To better understand affiliate needs, the committee distributed a survey to 174 year-round Swim affiliates. The details gathered have since been reviewed and will be used to inform the development of new resources to support effective Swim for Life® program delivery.

Other highlights

Throughout the year, the committee was hard at work and completed several key initiatives, including recording a podcast, submitting a review of adapted aquatic materials for national consideration, writing four Lifeline articles targeting instructional skills and Swim Instructor development and creating a Swim Lesson Audit Form to assist affiliates in strengthening program quality.

First Aid

The First Aid Committee made significant progress in preparing for upcoming updates within the first aid industry. Key achievements included a comprehensive review and alignment of the written First Aid Test with the latest CSA Standard adopted by the WSIB, ensuring compliance with current national requirements.

The committee also conducted a detailed review of the new Canadian First Aid Manual to verify accuracy, consistency and alignment with updated instructional and first aid practices. In addition, members compiled an itemized list of the equipment required for first aid courses, supporting greater standardization and quality control across training environments.

To further strengthen instructional readiness, the committee reviewed and refreshed lesson plans and PowerPoint presentations to reflect the revised curriculum and support effective delivery of the new material ahead of the anticipated 2026 launch.

Thank you to First Aid Chair Andrew Oman and committee members Hayley Callen, Lauren Dalueg, Stephanie Henry, Craig Jenner, Penny Lecour, Zane Muzaffar, Diana Reed, Scott Ruddle, Tamara Wood and Ben Zimmerman for reviewing, writing and input over the past year.

A special thank-you to Dr. Cody Dunne, our Medical Advisor, for exceptional leadership and guidance. Your expertise, insight and steady support played a vital role in this important initiative.

The guide supports organizations interested in showcasing their contributions to the National Lifeguard program.

Supporting Affiliates

The Lifeguard Services Committee supported the Hamilton Area Chairs by coordinating volunteers to deliver two National Lifeguard training clinics for local Instructors. Special thanks to Scott Ruddle and Wasi Rizvi, who stepped forward to lead the sessions and provide clear, practical guidance to strengthen program consistency across the region. Their commitment, professionalism and willingness to assist on short notice helped ensure the affiliate's training needs were fully met and accessible to all participants.

Video clips

The Lifeguard Services Committee, in partnership with the Resource Development Committee, continued developing new video content in 2025 to support National Lifeguard candidates and strengthen instructional tools for National Lifeguard Instructors. Volunteers dedicated significant time to scripting, filming and editing materials that will be featured in upcoming program resources. We're grateful for their efforts and appreciate the continued support of the City of Vaughan in helping make this work possible.

Bronze Committee

The Bronze Committee held its first in-person meeting since the pandemic to define its upcoming priorities for 2026 and begin developing new resources to support instructors teaching Bronze Star, Bronze Medallion and Bronze Cross. This year, the committee also completed a longstanding project: the creation of standardized rescue resources for Bronze Medallion and Bronze Cross. These resources will provide instructors with a strong starting point when delivering courses while allowing flexibility to build upon the resources as they gain experience and tailor their own teaching approaches. The resources are now available on the Society's website.

Thanks to Ashley Hutchison (Chair) and committee members, Sam Michael Coppa, Cody Flomen, Craig Jenner, Zane Muzaffar, Matthew Noce, Jaylen Peters, Michelle Rowe, Melanie Samborski and AJ Sousa.

Aquatic Proficiency Committee

The Ontario Branch formally assumed stewardship of the retired Distinction program from the National Society. This stewardship enables Ontario to pilot and revise the program to meet current training needs. Building on the work initiated by former chair Adrian Wong, the committee developed proposed revisions for an Ontario-based pilot. The committee created a comprehensive pilot guide along with supporting resources, including lesson plans, an updated agenda and additional materials to assist affiliates and examiners in testing the proposed changes. Upon completion of the pilot, the findings will be reviewed to help shape the future direction of the Distinction program.

Thank you to Allison Courtney (Chair) and the project team members Victoria Babineau, Renee Pelland and Lindsay Snider.

Training in Iqaluit

In March, National Trainer Tiffany Vis delivered a series of training programs in Iqaluit to build local capacity in aquatic leadership. The sessions included National Lifeguard Instructor training for 2 candidates, a Trainer Course for 4 candidates, a Swim Instructor Course for 1 candidate, National Lifeguard certification for 6 candidates and National Lifeguard recertification for 2 candidates. These efforts strengthened the local network of qualified lifesaving professionals and supported the ongoing development of skilled aquatic leaders in the community.

Training in Guyana

In July, National Trainers Sarah Newton and Tamara Wood returned to Guyana to continue training candidates, aiming to build local self-sufficiency in lifesaving and first aid. The program included 49 participants, with 7 earning Lifesaving Instructor certification, 41 completing Emergency First Aid, 31 achieving Bronze Medallion and 28 advancing to Bronze Cross. Three candidates were also appointed as Examiners, further strengthening local capacity and supporting a sustainable network of aquatic leaders.

Training and Development in the Caribbean

YRAC Spring Thing

VP of Training Program Patrick King, VP of Leadership Kerry Wakefield and First Aid Manager JP Molin delivered an information session on the Society's certification review process. The session explored what a certification review entails and its implications for both individuals and affiliates. Presenters outlined the circumstances that can trigger the review, along with warning signs that suggest program delivery may be compromised. Real-world scenarios – ranging from the surprisingly unusual to the seemingly routine – were examined to illustrate where issues arose, what went wrong and how they could have been prevented. The session emphasized the importance of strong oversight and consistent adherence to Lifesaving Society policies and procedures to maintain the integrity of training and certification standards.

National Trainer – Leadership Opportunities

From July through November, Leadership Council engaged several National Trainers to lend their experience, expertise and passion for the Lifesaving Society while contributing to a series of mini-projects listed below.

Special thanks to presenters Tiffany Vis and Tamara Wood.

National Trainer Course

Ten National Trainer candidates completed the National Trainer Course held on November 29 in Toronto and December 10 virtually. Thanks to Kerry Wakefield, Charlene Pugh, and Tamara Wood for the extensive work involved in designing, preparing and delivering this course. These candidates must now successfully apprentice on a Trainer Course before being appointed as a National Trainer.

Quality assurance and certification review

The effectiveness of the Society's training programs relies on maintaining its certification standards. In 2025, numerous written complaints regarding standards, program delivery, and the conduct of members and volunteers were investigated. These investigations led to five formal Certification Reviews, resulting in sanctions, temporary suspensions, revocations, or decertification for various offences.

Thank you to VPs Patrick King and Kerry Wakefield for taking a lead role on behalf of the Board of Directors and to the following volunteers who were panelists: Lisa Brandie, Cynthia Cakebread, Elisabeth Drouillard, Sarah Ingleton, Jason Jolicoeur, Lynda Kissner, Penny Lecour, Jerry Lynch, Jennifer Miller, Heather Morris-Stokes, Sarah Newton, Andrew Oman, Sylvia Pearson, Charlene Pugh, Shanna Reid, Katie Short, Samantha Slofstra, Julie Turnbull and Adrian Wong for all their time and hard work.

Work continued on addressing staffing challenges by collaborating with various stakeholders to publish the Aquatic Staffing Shortage Addendum Report, which is available on the Society's website.

State of Aquatic Staff in Ontario Survey

A survey was developed and launched to gain a clearer understanding of the current staffing landscape. It was distributed across a broad range of affiliates and the focus will now shift to compiling the responses and conducting a thorough analysis of the findings.

Webinars

2025 was a highly productive webinar year, hosting multiple sessions and establishing an annual calendar of offerings for 2025–2026. Throughout the year, the webinars supported more than 800 registered attendees in the effective management of safe aquatic facilities. All sessions were recorded and added as resources on the Lifesaving Society website.

In 2025, the webinar series hosted by Nikolay Nikolov featured the following: Pilot Evaluation of Lighting Conditions in Indoor Swimming Pools with Dr. Chun-Yip Hon and Allison Pan; From Policy to Pool Deck: Understanding Ontario's New Public Pools Regulation Amendments presented by Janice Carroll, Maresh Patel and Bryan Zhao; and Strategies to Protect Your Water: Optimizing Zones and Stations for Stronger Supervision with Kellee Hogan, Shanna Reid and Joey Rusnak.

SAFETY STANDARDS

Safety Standards contributes to the mission of the Society by setting and clarifying standards and by providing tools that help pool and waterfront owners, managers and operators prevent drowning and maximize public safety.

Under the leadership of Vice President Lisa Adams, the Safety Standards Council welcomed new Chair Alex Chu (Technology).

Research partnerships

Under the direction of Wasi Rizvi, the Society continued its research partnership with Toronto Metropolitan University. The primary focus was a project examining the effects of heat stress on lifeguards. This included applying for external funding, partnering with affiliates for data collection and collaborating with an intern. The project aimed to provide guidance for organizations to better protect their lifeguards from the impact of heat stress on performance.

Audit services

In 2025, the Lifesaving Society completed 20 safety audits of swimming pools and waterfronts across Ontario.

Safety Audit Services Chair Patrick D'Almada continued the development of an aquatic industry safety awards program, updated audit resources for 2025, and oversaw the training and recertification of staff. Updates to the audit database reflected current standards and included modifications to improve audit report recommendations.

Incident management resources

Under the leadership of Incident Management Chair Teresa Taylor, the following resources were developed:

- Major Incident Management Toolbox

A new resource was designed to help supervisory staff and pool operators respond effectively following serious incidents. The toolbox outlines clear steps, practical tools, and communication supports to assist with recovery and coordination after major events. It will soon be available on the Society's website.

- New Staff Training Package

A Critical Incident Stress Management (CISM) training module was created, including a PowerPoint presentation and a lesson plan. This module is designed to strengthen staff preparedness and resilience in the aftermath of critical incidents.

- Affiliate Feedback Tool

A post-incident tool was developed to collect feedback from affiliates one to two months after a major incident. This feedback will help the Society assess the effectiveness of its resources and identify opportunities to better support members during times of need.

Regulation Review

In 2025, under the guidance of Chair Janice Carroll, the Regulation Review Committee focused on extensive updates to the Guide to Ontario Public Pools Regulation, which is now available. The Backyard Pool Safety Guidelines are under review to update information and improve delivery to the target audience. Work is underway to update the former Guide to Waterslides.

Court and Inquest

Rob Richardson, Chair of the Court and Inquest Committee, submitted the Amelia Yeoman Inquest Report for approval by the Safety Standards Council. The report was subsequently posted in 2025 on the Society's website as a resource for pool operators. The committee has since turned its attention to a case involving the drowning of a young man in Algonquin Park.

Safety Standards

All existing safety standards are now accessible on the Lifesaving Society Ontario website. Safety Standards Chair Andrea Slade is leading an initiative to develop a new standard on the use of electronic devices in aquatic facilities. Nearly 400 surveys on this topic were received from affiliates, providing valuable feedback for the draft proposal, which is expected to be finalized and approved in 2026.

National Safety Standards Commission

Representing Ontario on the National Safety Standards Commission, Michael Shane began work on the development of a national waterfront standard and a national safety audit program.

Expert witness

In 2025, the Lifesaving Society was retained as an expert in twelve cases to assist law firms in reviewing aquatic incidents in Ontario, Quebec, Alberta and Prince Edward Island.

LIFESAVING SPORT

Lifesaving sport is the only sport whose skills are first learned for humanitarian purposes. Through lifesaving sport, the Lifesaving Society seeks to engage and inspire youth in our drowning prevention mission.

The Lifesaving Sport community in Ontario experienced a remarkable year, highlighted by 11 sanctioned regional competitions and seven provincial championships. This year saw the participation of 743 competitors across 29 clubs in our provincial championships, showcasing exceptional athleticism, teamwork, and dedication to lifesaving sport and its drowning-prevention mission.

Additionally, four Telegames were held, drawing 806 participants from 20 clubs. The Telegames continue to be a vital initiative, connecting athletes from different regions and fostering grassroots engagement in lifesaving competition.

Ontario hosted the Canadian Pool Lifesaving Championships in Windsor, marking the event's return to the city following the Canadian Championships in June 2023, the Commonwealth Lifesaving Championships in September 2023, and now again with the Canadian Pool Lifesaving Championships in May 2025. A big thank you to locals Jason Jolicoeur and Stephen Tolmie for their help in organizing the venue and the volunteers who made the event a success. We thank the City of Windsor for their continued support of lifesaving sport.

Both national championships had great turnouts, with Ontario leading the way in overall attendance. We had 127 of 212 athletes in the pool and 39 of 155 athletes at the beach. Further, the Lifesaving Club of Markham continued its provincial dominance by winning the club banner at the Canadian Pool Lifesaving Championships. We thank all the clubs and parents who made it possible for their athletes to travel and represent Ontario at the national level.

On the international stage, Ontario athletes represented the province with pride and excellence. At the Orange Cup in Rotterdam, Netherlands, Ontario was represented by Oliver Kalavriziotis (athlete), Tara Vanderlinden (official), and Kathleen Finn (manager). For the Commonwealth Lifesaving Championships 2025, held in Swansea, Wales, Ontario contributed a strong delegation of 2 athletes, 11 officials, and 2 support personnel including athletes Sydney Shemilt and Chloe Chen along with coach Chantique Carey-Payne. The Lifesaving Society also provided essential equipment support for the national team, ensuring Ontario competitors performed at their best.

PUBLIC EDUCATION

Public Education contributes to the mission of the Society by increasing awareness of the risks associated with activities in, on and around water. The aim is to modify Ontarians' at-risk behaviour to eliminate drowning and water-related injury.

School grant program

The Society approved applications for 58,816 Grade 3 students and 10,291 Grade 7 students for Swim to Survive® and Swim to Survive®+ training, respectively, for the 2024/25 school year.

The school grant programs would not be possible without the generous support of the Ontario Ministry of Education since 2006. In August 2024, the Ministry confirmed a grant of $1.7 million to support the Society's school grant program through the 2024/2025 school year.

In 2025, new Swim to Survive and Swim to Survive+ school grant program teacher resources for in-class lessons such as activity sheets, parent and teacher letters and updated lesson plans, which are all available on the Society's website.

Special thanks to Jillian Hamilton for her guidance and assistance as part of the Application Approval Committee. The Society greatly appreciates the long-standing and continuing support of PPL Aquatic, Fitness and Spa Group for the Swim to Survive and Swim to Survive+ programs.

National Drowning Prevention Week

National Drowning Prevention Week (NDPW) was celebrated July 20–26, 2025. It focuses community and media attention on drowning and encourages news releases, television and radio interviews and public demonstrations and events promoting our messaging.

The NDPW 2025 theme was Safer Together. Ontario incorporated a focus on lifejacket wear for all age groups. Like salt and pepper and peanut butter and jam, lifejackets and water go hand-in-hand.

Public Education representatives attended 12 community events over the week, making approximately 11,000 in-person touchpoints. Special thanks to Mustang Survival and Salus Marine Wear Inc., for donating more than $3,000 worth of lifejackets and gear to promote lifejacket wear.

World Drowning Prevention Day

Falling during NDPW, the UN General Assembly Resolution on Global Drowning Prevention designated July 25 as World Drowning Prevention Day. To mark the day, 24 Ontario buildings and monuments participated in the "Light Up Blue" campaign. Thank you to all who participated including CN Tower, Bracebridge Falls, Brant St. Pier (Burlington), Mississauga Clock Tower, Niagara Falls, the OTTAWA sign at Byward Market, the HAMILTON sign, Welland Bridge, London City Hall, Guelph City Hall, Orillia Recreation Centre, Vaughan City Hall, Sarnia City Hall and Jumbo the Elephant in Elgin County.

The Jumbo the Elephant Monument in St. Thomas lit up blue in recognition of World Drowning Prevention Day.

Lifejacket Contribution Program

The Society launched the Lifejacket Contribution Program in 2025 to support new and existing local lifejacket lending programs. The Contribution Program provides successful applicants with up to nine adult-sized, Transport Canada-approved lifejackets, conditional on applicants matching the donation with an equal number of new infant/child/youth lifejackets. The Lifejacket Contribution Program supported six lending programs in 2025, giving out a total of 51 lifejackets.

Water Smart contest

Municipal Chair Judith Schultz led the 2025 Water Smart Contest, encouraging kids to display their understanding of water safety habits through art. There were 92 submissions. Fifty prizes (a children's book) were distributed to affiliates running the coloring contest for children 5 and under. The provincial winners from the 6–10-year-old and 11–15-year-old age categories were Alyssa Chen (age 10) and Abigail Aves (age 13).

RESEARCH

The Lifesaving Society reports on drowning and unintentional water-related deaths. These reports provide a comprehensive fact base to guide the Society and others in developing effective drowning prevention solutions. Water-related death data for Canadian provinces and territories is extracted from the Offices of Chief Coroners and Medical Examiners and analyzed by the Drowning Prevention Research Centre Canada (DPRC) – the lead agency for drowning and water-incident research in Canada.

In 2025, the DPRC produced 111 reports.

Interim drowning data

Interim data offers a glimpse into the drowning mortality rate of any given year. Interim data on fatal drownings is derived from internet and media monitoring services across Canada. This data is later reconciled with Coroner and Medical Examiners' reports. Annually, it provides information on approximately half of all drowning fatalities in Canada.

In 2025, the DPRC produced weekly interim/preliminary drowning reports from May to September for Lifesaving Society Branches including British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Ontario, the Maritimes and Northern Canada.

In Ontario, preliminary interim data showed an overall 21% increase in 2025 drowning incidents compared to 2024. Increased media reports involving aquatic incidents were reported in 2025 (+21%), non-aquatic incidents (+25%) and boating incidents (+10%).

In Ontario, more drownings among children under 5 years were reported than in previous years and the number of media reports involving young adults 15–24 years increased (+57%). There were noticeable increases (+42%) in reported drownings among adults 65 years and older, which were offset by a decrease in reports involving adults 30–39 years (–37%).

By comparison, interim data for Canada as a whole indicated a slight overall decrease in fatal drownings (–10%). Increases in reported drownings in Nova Scotia (+86%), Ontario (+20%), British Columbia (+19%) and Quebec (+5%) were offset by decreases in New Brunswick (–20%), Newfoundland (–14%) and Alberta (–13%). Reported boating fatalities (–15%) and non-aquatic fatalities (–10%) decreased.

Non-fatal drowning

In 2025, the DPRC produced an Ontario Non-fatal Drowning Report.

Fatal drowning

In 2025, the DPRC produced provincial/territorial infographic reports for Lifesaving Society Branches in British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba, Ontario, Québec, Newfoundland and Labrador, the Maritimes and Northern Canada. The DPRC also produced a 2025 national infographic report and a 2025 Canadian Drowning Report for Lifesaving Society Canada, with the latter coming out in early 2026.

The most current data was provided to each Branch. Nationally, data was available for years up to and including 2021. In Ontario, data was available for years up to and including 2021.

Transport Canada recreational boating-related fatality reports

The DPRC produced monthly recreational preliminary boating-related fatality reports for Transport Canada beginning in May 2025. Work also began to produce an updated Annual Recreational Boating-related Fatalities Report for data years up to 2021 and Annual Preliminary Recreational Boating-Related Fatalities Report with data years 2022–2025.

Studies focusing on drowning

In 2025, the DPRC collaborated with other researchers to publish three studies.

Lay rescuer intervention study

This study, published in the journal Injury Prevention, revealed lay rescuers (bystanders without formal training) play a vital role in saving lives during drowning incidents, but often at great personal risk. Between 2010 and 2019, 4,535 people died from unintentional drowning in Canada. Lay rescuers were involved in 1,846 rescue attempts, often using high-risk, contact-based techniques (48.5%). Tragically, 74 lay rescuers fatally drowned while trying to save someone else. Lay rescuers were found to be more likely to intervene when the drowning person was a child, female, in a pool, only one person was drowning, and no ice was present. The study calls for expanded drowning prevention efforts that go beyond swimming skills and CPR and indicates that public education should include safe, non-contact rescue techniques.

Supervision and guardianship of Canadian youth

This study looked at risk factors and population statistics to determine the likelihood of a rescue or rescue attempt taking place. The study used fatal drowning records ( $n = 638$ ) from coroners and medical examiners across Canada (2006–2016). When population statistics and situational factors were considered, bystander type (adult, minors only, or alone/not witnessed) became the primary way to predict whether a rescue attempt was likely. Compared to infants, older children and teens were less likely to be rescued, and a bystander being there did not mean there was a capable adult supervising. This finding is interesting because teenagers (15–18 years) accounted for 33.5% of drownings, followed by toddlers (2–4 years, 21.9%) and children (5–11 years, 20.5%). Lakes and rivers posed the highest risk. Rescue attempts were less likely in ocean settings.

Demographic, situational, and environmental risk factors

This research involved a three-phase risk assessment using unintentional water-related death records ( $n = 5105$ ) from all Canadian provinces and territories from January 2006 to December 2016. It also included census boundaries, hydrological shapefiles, and cellphone towers. Results show that minors were most likely to be the responder attempting the rescue when someone was alone drowning or was alone and/or unintentionally fell into the water. Seasonal analyses reveal risky peak times during evenings and weekends and demonstrate the importance of per capita calculations in comparing risk between differently sized populations. A unique approach was used to separate risk based on the probability of accessing cellular reception for emergency medical services at drowning locations.

MEMBER SERVICES

Member Services develops and maintains the corporate functions, systems and infrastructure required to support and service the membership of the Society.

Governance

The National Society is governed by a volunteer Board of Directors nominated by provincial/territorial branches and elected at the Society's AGM. National commissions are led by volunteer commissioners who report to the Board of Directors. These commissions are Training Programs, Lifesaving Sport, Safety Standards and International Relations. A management team is composed of senior staff of the 10 branches.

Lifesaving Society Ontario is governed by an elected volunteer Board of Directors with a volunteer Council of Officers and nine activity centre councils composed of professionals in recreation, education, business, finance, management and the medical and legal professions.

Ontario Board of Directors

The Board of Directors governs the Lifesaving Society Ontario in accordance with its mission and bylaws. Directors are elected for a two-year term by the Society's membership at the annual general meeting. No person or body external to the Society is entitled to appoint any directors. Directors appoint all officers, including council and area chairs and approve activity centre plans.

In July, President-elect Paul Di Salvo stepped down and was appointed VP without portfolio. Additionally, Treasurer Crystal Maloney was appointed President-elect.

Ontario Council of Officers

The Council of Officers is composed of two representatives of each activity centre council (see below), the president as chair and the president-elect. Members of the Council of Officers are nominated by the respective activity centre council and appointed by the Board of Directors for two-year terms.

The Council of Officers represents active affiliate and award members; manages topics not assigned to a single activity centre (e.g., governance review) or topics that are the responsibility of multiple activity centre councils (e.g., affiliate recognition review); and monitors the work of the Board of Directors. Any member of the Society may attend and speak at meetings of the Council of Officers.

Activity Centre Councils

Lifesaving Society Ontario organizes its drowning prevention work in activity centres: Training Program, Leadership, Public Education, Safety Standards, Management Training, Lifesaving Sport, Fundraising, Member Services and Area Services.

Activity centre councils are chaired by the topical vice-president or by an individual appointed by the board. Councils are composed of portfolio chairs (appointed by the board for a two-year term) who oversee specific portfolios necessary to manage the work of the activity centre. Chairs recruit and develop committee members.

Any member of the Society may attend and speak at activity centre council meetings.

On the Lifesaving Sport Council, Emma Phillips was appointed as Sport Social Media Chair in February. In September, Brittany Wong resigned as the Lifesaving Sport Outreach Chair and Leslie Aziz and Jeremy Wong became Coaching Co-chairs.
